Governor Clifford Walker Tuesday announced that he had asked Commissioner of Agriculture J. J. Browd, in his capacity as chairman of the state board of entomology, to call an immediate meeting of that body to consider the report of the state auditor and certain questions regarding legality of some actions of the board raised therein. It is expected that such a meeting will be held within the next few days.

State Auditor Sam J. Slate, in his report on the entomological department, questions the legality of payment of subsistence to State Entomologist Ira W. Williams while he is in Atlanta, with his headquarters in the state capitol, and also suggested that calcium sarsenate purchased by the board should be bought on sealed hids, opened at a certain date, and the contract awarded to the lowest bidder, instead of the present system which consists, said Mr. Slate, in "shopping around" in search of the lowest price. He likewise recommended that the department discontinue its practice of allowing employees a flat sum for the use of their automobiles in counties where they are stationed and ten cents a mile for use of cars outside of those counties, substituting a system whereby the department would own the cars and pay for gas, oil and upkeep.

Mr. Williams stated Tuesday that he had no comment to make on the auditor's report, and anything for publication would be given out by the board. Members of the board in addition to Chairman Brown are R. C. Berckmans and T. G. Hudson.

It was stated Tuesday by officials of the department of agriculture, in the absence of Mr. Brown, that as chairman of the board of entomolowy he would not be irvested with the authority to east a vote on any question, except in case of a tie vote, when he would decide the question.

Receipts of the entomological department in 1924, according to the auditor's report, were $98,919,62, while expenditures were $93,940.86.

UNUSUAL DISEASE ENTERS INTO CASE IN APPEALS COURT

Blastomycosis, said to be one of the most unusual diseases in the pharmacopia, was an important factor Tuesday in a decision handed down by the state court of appeals. C. L. Smith, of Atlanta, suffering from the disease which is caused by the entry of a fungus or vegetable growth through an abrasion of the skin, lost the decision when the appellate court reversed the ruling of Judge E. H. Thomas, of Fulton superior court. in Smith's suit for damages.

According to the record, Smith, who was employed by the International Vegetable Oil company, got a blister on his neck when a drop of hot water fell on him while he was at work in a well. His collar irritated the blister and shortly afterwards he was exposed to ammonia gas, in the course of his employment. His neck became so sore he lost a week's employment.

On his return to work, he stayed became so sore he lost a week's employment.

On his return to work, he stayed for two months, when he developed sores all over his body and lost an arm by amputation. He had accepted a full settlement from the insurance company for nine weeks disability at $12 a week, before it was found that he was a victim of blastomycosis. He asked a rehearing on his case before the Georgia industrial commission, and was granted a larger award. The award was sustained by Judge Thomas.

In reversing the decision the court

Thomas.

In reversing the decision the court of appeals held that the plaintiff had failed to prove that the disease resulted directly from injury sustained in the course of his employment by the vegetable oil company. The court, however, sustained the right to have "the case reconend."

FORFEIT OF BOND IN CERTAIN CASES DENIED BY COURT

Bond is not forfeitable in Georgia unless it bears the name of the court before which a man is to appear as well as the date for his appearance, the state court of appeals held Tuesday. The case arose when bond was made, in Gordon county, for the appearance of Paul Powell, "before the court house," to answer a misdemeanor charge made before a justice of the peace.

After the bond was made, Powell the peace.

After the bond was made, Powell was indicted on a charge of criminal libel and when he did not appear in superior court to answer that charge, his $500 bond was declared forfeit.

J. C. Fox and W. O. Lewis, the bondsmen, appealed the case.

Clear, Cool Weather Seen for Atlanta For This Week

Continuation of the clear weather Tuesday was promised for today C. V. yon Herrmann, chief of the ited States weather bureau in lanta.

Slightly cooler temperatures are needled to hit Atlanta during the first tew days, but a serious decline the mercury reading is not extend by the weather man.
The minimum reading on Tuesday 60 degrees and the high temperate was recorded at approximately degrees. The mercury is expected hover around these same marks or ghtly lower during the next few yes, according to Mr. von Herrann.

Thousands Attend Funeral.

Thousands of people stood along the line of march, hushed by the tones of Chopin's funeral march as the military hero was borne past. Another crowd had gathered in the cemetery long before the time for the ceremony there. From the top of the hill where the mausoleum stands, they watched the funeral procession leave the city two miles away, and wind slowly up the long hill.

Several children played about Thousands Attend Funeral.

"Forestry and Forestry Conserva tion," will be the topic of C. B. Harmon, well-known Atlanta business mon, well-known Atlanta business man, and secretary of the Southern Sash, Door and Millwork Manufacturers' association, who will address the Atlanta section of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers at the May meeting in the Chamber of Commerce building, Thursday night at 8 o'clock.

The subject chosen by Mr. Harmon is in line with a national forestry movement which is being observed this week throughout the country, Devastation of forests of the country long has been considered a problem of the most vital interest, and reforrestation movements already have been started in practically every section where forests once reigned, it is said.

Sections where trees abound are considered better adapted for agricultural purposes than in the arid regions of the country and for this reason alone, it being generally known that forests are conducive to the principal crops of this country, various industries have undertook the movement to curb the wholesale destruction of the country's forests and replant, to some extent, those which already have been devastated.

By having been connected with the lumber interests for the last several years Mr. Harmon is particularly fitted to discuss the topic he has chosen. Measures to conserve the forests of Georgia and other sections of the south will discuss at length steps which recently have been taken to protect the wooded sections of the southern states.

Shepher I. who through a springtime of imprisonment has seemed a broken, impotent figure in the hands of fate, is believed to be preparing to carry war into the enemies' camp with a direct attack on Judge Harry Olson, the man who, descriping himself as "advocate for the dead," relentlessly forced the investigation which resulted in the lawyer's arrest.

This was indicated by William Scott Stewart, Shepherd's lawyer, as he questioned veniremen Tuesday in the slow trak of selecting a jury.

Stewart's questions demonstrated that he may seek to show a counterplot on the part of Olson and a trust company to keep the $1,000,000 McClintock fortune from Shepherd's hands. Olson's friends ridicule the suggestion.

"You understand that you are allowed to consider any possible motive that this defendant. William Shepherd, may have had," Stewart said in questioning veniremen. "Are you also able to take into consideration the possibility that there is a motive on the other side—that Judge Olson and the Northern Trust Company of Illinois are trying to convict Shepherd and thus deprive him of the fortune?" Selection of the jury dragged Tuesday, with both state and defense questioning veniremen in greatest dequestioning vepiremen in greatest de-tail. Up to a late hour no jurymen had been selected. Three men who were chosen at Monday's session were dismissed Tuesday, and observers in the court room declared that the selection of all 12 men might take two weeks

Shepherd, from the first, has charged that he is the entirely innocent victim of a plot. When interviewed by the United News in the first stormy days of the case, before his arrest, he declared that personal malice of an old enemy, a Chicago attorney other than Olson, was behind all the veiled charges against him.

Short talks were made here by R. H. Clagett and Wyatt Foster, of Rome, outlining the aims of the Rome chamber of commerce, in the efforts of that organization to promote good roads in this section of the state.

Colonel G. A. Jones responded with an expression of enthusiasm among the people of Gilmer county for the development of good roads. The speakers predicted a day when the entire mountain region of north Georgia will be thickly settled by residents of Florida, during the summer months, and the creation of cooperate on the property of this section, an era of prosperity heertofore undreamed of.

The Rome good roads plan is to urge the improvement of highways, east and west across the state, linking those already built—north and south.

Tennessee Cities Fighting Executives Take Plane Ride as Committee Inspects Field HAYS PHESDEN To Stage Evolution Test Case

Chattanooga, Tenn., May 19.—Just as cities bid feverishly for big conventions, so are the cities of Tennessee fighting for the privilege of staging the test case involving the validity of the state law prohibiting the teaching of evolution.

Chattanooga stole a mean march on the little town of Dayton Tuesday and the 1,800 souls of Dayton, while aggreeved, are still determined that theirs must be the big tent even though others atage side-shows.

It was like htis: The Chattanooga Times and certain public-spirited citizens had suggested that the case of John T. Scopes, the biology teacher whose arrest, conviction and appeal to a higher court formed the base of the first test case, be transferred to Chattanooga, It was pointed out that Chattanooga had a large auditorium as well as many fine hotels to house the crowds which doubtless would come to hear the debate on evolution and the law.

With po thanks at all, Dayton turned down this suggestion. It was Dayton's case, and anyway, Da ton could build its temporary hotels and tent cities to accommodate the visitors.

So now Chattanooga has gone ahead and launched a test case all its own. Dr. Lyle B. West brought charges examined a test case all its own. Dr. Lyle B. West brought charges against Steger Hunt, a biology teacher there in the Central High school, it being understood that Hunt had taught from the same book which Scopes used at Dayton—"A Civic Biology."

Four students were subpoensed to go before the grand jury and tell what Hunt taught in his classroom, and with them went the hopes of Chattanooga, It was pointed out that Chattanooga trial would be held long before the trial of Scopes at Dayton would seem to be out of luck. The Chattanooga trial would be held long before the trial of Scopes are poptried to the law.

Or West, who instituted the latest test case, is a close friend of Hunt. Friends of Scopes also are reported to have persuaded him to s

The proposal of Councilman C. G. Allen that the office of fire marshal be created in Atlanta, the marproperties at regular intervals, with power of condemnation, etc., is a good one, provided the condemnation authority vested is not made arbitrary, and without proper ex-

GARBAGE AND CULTURE.

It is hoped that Mayor Sims will veto the ordinance passed by council Monday granting the privilege of placing free garbage cans, bearing advertisements, all over Atlanta. The very thought is repulsive, and to say that Atlanta, cultural center of the south, is to lend itself, for a consideration of $7 a can, or any other price, to such a cheap commercialization of street indecency is unthinkable.

There can be no justification on the excuse that the cans will not litter the streets with their alluring and "artistic" tales of patent medicines, and the like, for they will. The outdoor advertiser buys exposure-publicity based on the number of people passing it daily-and the Premier MacKenzie King, of Canada, will ask for a clear definition and no doubt he will be supported by Premier Herzog of South Africa. Canadians and South Africans wont to get away from the colony idea. The word autonomous states within a world federation must be more than phrases. Of course, in respect of British territories the sense of possession has given place to a sense of obligation, often justifying British rule by bringing security, peace, and comparative prosperity to lands than never knew them before. Lord Morley considered that this, in fact, was England's mission in the world. "Russia and the American Union are nothing in comparison with the Empire with which we have to deal." curs. This happens without respect to the treatment employed. I said the cause and nature of this form of arthritis is not known, and therefore any treatment must be empirical, based on experience or faith in general hygienic measures.

Since the enforced disability itself is a big factor in the progress of the disease, any means whereby the patient can get exercise, and especially movements of the affected joints, after the acute inflammation has subsided, will be helpful. This involves the application of massage, manipulation and mechanical apparatus as well as voluntary exercise.

I cannot cite authority for it, but somehow I feel that the child with this joint disease should have plain cod liver oil, perhaps a teaspoonful daily, and the sunbath treatment. The sunbath treatment requires the supervision of a physician who has had experience with that mode of treatment: It is not a thing for amateurs to trifle with.

Special care and effort will prevent the gradually developing contractures which are likely to occur in any prolonged disabiling illness and which otherwise cripple the patient after the illness itself has passed. The Liberal One.

office of the Near East Relief following the annual field day held last Sunday, according to H. A. Eastman, district director, who declared indi-cation points to a successful campaign.

"The people of Atlanta have shown a generous spirit in the cause of these little orphans in the Near East, and it is the spirit of philanthropy found here that will go a long way toward successfully carrying on the work started by the American people in the Bible Lands."

Mr. Eastman emphasized the fact that of the small amount of that is required to take care of one of the children in the American orphanages attention.

"These children are being brought up under the helpful influence of good teachers, who are preparing them for various careers when they reach their maturity," he said.

The field day of the Near East is an annual affair, at which time the people are asked to contribute toward the upkeep of thousands of orphans now under the care of the American nearle, through its agency the Near East Relief.

Mr. Eastman stated that any who did not make pledges at church services last Sunday could do so by sending the amount in check or otherwise to the headquarters of the organiza-

Art Lovers Awed as Artist Paints Portrait of Slaton At Exhibition at Biltmore

Immense Crowds Con-tinue To Visit Hotel and DAHLONEGA PUPILS 1924 Attendance Records Broken Daily.

Atlanta's art fans packed the main ballroom Tuesday night at the Biltmore to see Wayman Adams, famous artist, paint a portrait of former Governor John M. Slaton. The room was filled and big crowds milled around the doorway during the entire hour and a half that Governor Slaton posed with the immobility of a professional model and the artist created a genuine portrait before the entranced eyes of his audience.

In addition to the painting by Mr. Adams, Marie Dawson Morrell played a number of violin selections and several of the visting artists, including Violet Oakley, F. Luis Mora, Wilson Irvine and Paul Daugherty, made short talks.

It already is evident that the exhibition by the Grand Central Galleries is going to draw many more visitors this year than last, despite the 30,000 who registered during the two weeks' showing in 1924. Tuesday night, in addition to the thousand who watched the portrait painting, steady streams of viewers crowded the atlantance of the portrait painting.

PROPOSAL TO SCRAP 400 SHIPS-SUPPORTED

Dundee had to have color to last as long as he has. He couldn't break a window with a brick. In all his battles he has knocked out only 19 fighters and the last time au opponent fell before him he was so startled that he thought there was something phoney about the incident. That was the time Danny Frush folded up in the ninth round of a fight at Ebbets field in Brooklyn. Dundee didn't believe that any man lived who could be stopped by his feeble,—musclebound raps on the chin.

Johnny is not the oldest fighter in the ring, either in age or length of service, but he glares above the other old fellows like a scarlet streak across a gray picture.

Washington, May 19.—(By the Associated Press.)—Chairman O'Connor, of the shipping board, declared in a statement today that his proposal to scrap as useless 400 idle government merchant vessels was supported by a report of a committee of experts made to him last April.

The experts, he said, found that 521 cargo vessels, of which 302 were lakers, were in excess of the commercial needs of the country, and were not required in connectio with the military service.

The committee was ade up of representatives of the war department, navy department, department of commerce, the shipping board and the fleet corporation, and was said to have acted under the authority of the committee appointed by the president in 1924 to study and make recommendations on matters affecting the American merchant marine. The report of the president's committee was made public some time ago, but it did not go into detail on the question of scrap. farm."

In the light of the experts' report, Chairman O'Connor is understood to hold that there is no question as to maintenance of a sufficient naval reserve at issue in the pending recommendation of the shipping board's sub-committee on scrapping to dispose of 200 vessels of the idle fleet for junking. The board's sub-committee is in agreement to recommend such a policy, and is expected to submit its report to the full board next week.

With the baseball schedule at Tech finished, the athletes and other students are turning their thoughts and attention to commencement and final examinations.

Only one series of the entire dlap.

The Oglethorpe Petrels will make their final bid for honors in the 1925 college baseball campaign when they invade the Classic City for their two closing games with the Georgia Bulldogs next Friday and Saturday. The stormy birds returned from their road trip through Tennessee and Alabama with four out of the six games on the won side, and are still in the running for championship honors.

commencement activities are negofield earlier in the season, but on the outh each managed to earn a victory in un effort to have Friday's game with at least one win from each.

Letter men from the past season were announced last night by Coach Clay, as follows:

Zoeller Steps Out.

Frankie Zoeller didn't pitch any yesterday, but he fielded and batted in a manner that had the hat passing through the stands, accumulating a hire little pile of sheckels for the midget outfielder.

Out of five trips to the plate. Frankie walked once, doubled once and ended his work for the afternoon by poking out a long triple to center field, with the bases as crowded as the street cars that bring you to town after the game.

But that's not all. Four put-outs, three of them very spectacular, are chalked up by his name in the box goore. Jeanes hit one aimed at the little left fielder was under it after a long sprint. In the next inning that his legs were not very far from infield territory. In addition to that, he pitched a mice brand of ball until the eighth when he went to pieces, but Johnny Dobbs decided to leave him in the box and save his other pitchers for the double bill today.

Joe Palmisano, captain of the Georgia Tech team during the past season who will leave Saturday to join the Cleveland Indians, was in uniform yesterday working out with the Crackers. Tech's season has closed and Joe refused to be idle until time to exhibit his wares under the big tent.

closed and Joe refused to be idle until time to exhibit his wares under the big tent.

The Crackers marked up three runs in their half of the initial frame when Zoelier doubled, took third when Niehoff flied out to right field and scored on a wild pitch by Hall. Two more were added in this inning on successive singles by Good and Cullop, followed by Red Smith's triple.

Slappey gave up a walk, two singles and a double in the second inning before retiring to the showers with two runs charged against him. Fittery retired the side and managed to rock along very well until the Barons got too familiar with his offerings and began to take advantage of his wildness.

Birmingham scored one in the third on a double by Jeanes, a single by Bowman and Schenner's sacrifice fly.

Fittery walked Bowman in the seventh with the bases full, forcing Stewart, who had singled, home with the fourth run for Birmingham before McLaughlin went in.

The four runs scored by Atlanta in the eighth came after Cullop and Smith had grounded out. Murphy singled to right and stole second. Jenkins and Gazella walked, filling the bases, and McLaughlin walked, scoring Murphy. Then came Frankie Zoeller with his long triple to center, cleaning the hassocks.

A doubleheader will be played this afternon, with Bagby and Yeargin slated to do the chunking for the ble play, McLaughlin to Jenkins to Murphy.

During the three innings he worked McLaughlin held the Baronial batsmen to two singles and did not walk a man. He showed the stuff in the big pinch, however, and that's where the day's work was done to the satisfaction of all concerned.

Fast fielding was evident at all stages of proceedings. Two double kills were registered by the Crackers and one by the Barons.

Although Zoeller's famous triple with the hassocks full put the game in the ceb ox and frightened the Birmingham crew into complete submission, the deciding run of the aftermoon was presented to locals free of charge by the awiftly-weakening Hall, who walked three men in the cighth; the last, McLaughlia, forcing Murphy across with the winning run and leaving three on for Frankie to score with his long-wallon.

"Kellogg's ALL-BRAN has entirely relieved me of constipation," writes grateful father

The ravages of constipation can be promptly stopped. Here is signed evidence.

Mr. Hunt's case is typical of thousands of others who have found habit-forming pills and drugs of no avail in seeking per-manent relief from constipation. Read this interesting letter:

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN has entirely re-leved me of constipation. Before I started using ALL BRAN I was a regular my in taking pills—always getting omething to bring relief. Now I never ouch them. I fully recommend it to

You can get permanent relief from constipation with Kellogg's ALL-BRAN if eaten regularly—two tablespoonfuls daily, or in chronic cases, with every meal. Doctor recommend it because it is a bull food which sweeps the intesting clean, stimulates digestion and normal, healthy action.

THE MEETING.

curred a few weeks later. Jane was in the office alo ras a visitor to see Mansfield.

It was a full minute before Jane recognized the plump, handsomely-gowned woman, awathed in turs as the Helen Mansfield of her girlhood. Helen had changed vastly. Too little exercise and over indulgence in rich ood had spoiled her figure. She dressed too elaborately and with her pretty coloring gone; her face under her lumed hat looked rother weak and abyish and stupiá.

Beside ber, Jane was still a slim girl. In fact, so little had the years done to her, in spite of her hard experiences, that Helen Mansfield recognized her without hesitation.

She raised her head and said haughtily:

haughtily:
"So you are my husband's secretary? Why didn't he tell me?" Jane answered:

One point I want to emphasize One point I want to emphasize most strongly is that you must not wear high, stiff collars, and that you should never wear a dark wool or silk material against the neck, for the dye rubs into the skin, discolors and makes it coarse. Collars may be as high as you please in back but should roll softly away at the sides, leaving the front of the throat exposed. Only a very young and very pretty face can stand the everity of a very high collar, yet most ladies increase their years by swathing themselves to their chins with stiffly boned and most unbecoming black boned and most unbecoming black bands. The older the face the more necessary is a soft light-color collar.

me and I have not told him for obvious reasons."

Thelen declared impatiently, "and I shall certainly tell Hall whom he is employing. If he sees things my way, "It must be rather an humiliating situation for you."

A little flush crept up in Jane's smooth cheeks, but her quiet tone did not change when she replied:

"I scarcely think that it is necessary to carry an old feud into a business relationship. I work quite as faithfully for Mr. Mansfield as if I were a total stranger."

"Nevertheless, I don't like the idea at all." Belen told her. "Other people may recognize you and it would cause a lot of gossip if it gets about that Hal is employing the daughter of the family that slandered my father."

"I have more right to bitterness than you, Mrs. Mansfield," Jane reminded her;

"Indeed," Helen's head went up

Errors and more errors! We hear them on every side—in every place. At a social gathering the other night I met a man that I had met some time before, and he said he did not at first "rekoniz" me, but I looked "familiar."

'familiar.'

I am not familiar, and don't want to be—nor would I wish to have anybody 'rekoniz' such a characteristic in public. I wonder how that fellow spells the word 'recognize'—or if he can spell it! It is not an uncommon error, the mispronunciation of that word, and I have heard it pronounced 'ree-cognize'—with the first 'e' as long as could be elongated.

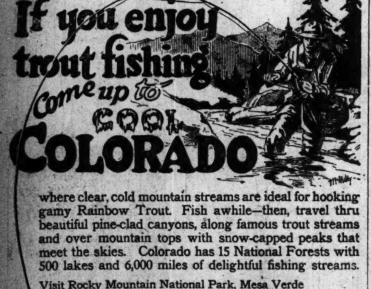

Nor is the latter error uncommon in words beginning with "re." I often hear "ree-ality," "ree-spect," and "ree-peat"—this last word always reminding me of the parents who named their first boy Pete; when the second hoy arrived they called him Repete.

Repete.

Please pardon the digression, but some stories stick to one like mispronunciation sticks to the mispronouncer—if that word is permissible. One that says "rekoniz" is likely to say "crimnal" for "criminal," "akret" for "accurate," "newterliz" for "neutralize," "colyum" for "column," and "speshyality" for "specialty" and commit other crimes without fear of prosecution.

That's where the trouble lies—we are too easy with those who are guilty of such sets. If a man should misuse our dog, we could prosecute him; but if homisuses our language we simply must gris and bear it.

In these days of associations, secleties and leagues, we should get together and organize a "Society for the Prevention of Mispronunciation," and with the proper cooperation of members we eventually might influence legislation toward the end that infractions of the laws of pronunciation would be summarily dealt with by the "Court of Correct Speech." Then commissions might be appointed in the United States and Canada for the regulation

OFF FOR THE BALL.

This is one day's chapter of the famous story of "Cinderella." Cut out and save the paper dolls each day and you will have a whole set with which to act out the story.

"Now, my child, you can go to the ball," said the godmother. "But remember this: My fairy charm can last only until midnight. At the last stroke of twelve this fine coach will again become a pumpkin; the horses will become mice; the coachman, a rat; and the footmen, lizards as they were before. Your beautiful dress will become rags once more. So by twelve you must be home again."

Cinderella gladly promised to obey.

"I had a bad spell with my stomach," says Mr. James. "After I would eat, if I ate anything with grease in it. I would spit up and it would be right sour. I would feel tight in my chest and a slimy bitter taste in my mouth, until I got where I didn't want to eat.

"My druggist told me Black-Draught was good, so I began using it. I took small doses after meals and it did help me. I quit spitting up; my food seemed to digest. I keep Black-Draught and use it all the time, when I have the least trouble, and it cleanses the liver and does me a lot of good."

"I saw that Black-Draught was do-

"I saw that Black-Draught was doing my husband lots of good," Mrs. James continues the story, "so I thought I would use it too. I had a tight feeling in my chest after meals, a lot of gas, too, and my skin was yellow and muddy-looking. I felt tired all the time, just played out, but after taking Black-Draught I was no longer constipated, my shin cleared up and I felt much better in every way."

"Things went along fairly well until the last couple of years. Then there came a big slump from which we have never recovered. Since then things have been going steadily from had to worse. We have had large losses due to cattle rustlers. When I saw Taggart today I learned from him that there aren't half enough cattle on the ranch to pay back the $100,000 we owe the bank."

Marshall's voice halted on a note of despondency. He began again, falteringly:

"That means, dear—that simply means that unless we buy at least 2,000 feeders at once and fatten them for the fall market, well lose everything."

"Oh, but we'll find a way out, deaddy," came Mary's voice reassuring her father. "We must find a way—and we will."

There was a moment of silence, then Marshall spoke again:

"The only money we have is this—"

At these words the spying Buck lifted his head again and looked in the window. He saw that Marshall had brought out a bag, opened it, and was taking from it several large rolls of bills.

"So,0000 left to you by your grandfather, dear," Marshall's voice continued. "But I can't use this, dear. It was left only for you, to be spent on sending you to school in the east, and the balance for you to use on yourself to do what you want with—"

Both foreign and domestic trade interests were reported moderate buyterests were reported moderate buyers here again today, and private cables said the relatively, steady showing of Liverpool was due to trade calling and Manchester buying. Detailed weather reports were considered favorable as to the greater part of the belt, but there was a bullish comment on the high temperatures in southwest Texas and a few complaints of excessive rains in North Carolina. These features seemed to create uncertainty as to the showing of the weekly report of the weather bureau tomorrow and according to local brokers there was some buying

New Orleans, May 19.—Cotton de-veloped fairly active trading today and the trend of prices was upward from the start and although there were some lied quickly, giving evidence of more sustained support than for some time. Prices opened 9 to 11 points higher and July soon traded up to 22.81 and October to 22.05, or 23 to 19 points, respectively. above the close of yesterday. While July reacted to 22.69 and October to 21.87 later in the narraing, the market turned quite firm during the noon hour shorts were run in and in the late trading July was forced up to 23.12 and October to 22.21. The close was not much below the highs at net gains for the day of 23 to 49 points, July showing the greatest gain.

The initial advance was due largely to the strength of Liverpool cables, but the subsequent advance was attributed to good trade buying, particularly of July and undisguised efforts to run in the shorts, an operation which appeared entirely successful. The fair reaction of the morning which made the lows on new crop months.

Casazza Names HAJJ TAHIR BEGINS New Opera Stars IS ONLY 140 NOW

General Manager Gatti Casazza, of Saturday announced the program for that famous organization, just before sailing for Europe, it was learned in Atlanta Tuesday. Inasmuch as Atlanta is the southern home of the company and many of the new artists and productions each year are brought to Atlanta during the annual opera season here, the announcement is of wide local interest.

New artists for the Metropolitan for the season of 1925-26 have been engaged in the persons of Carmela Ponselle, mezzo soprano, sister of the colorful Rosa, Atlanta's favorite star; Editha Fleische, soprano; Lauritz Melchior, tenor from the Berlin opera and Beyreuth; Merio Basiola, baritone, and Dorothea Flexer, American mezzo soprano.

Among new operas to be presented by the company will be "Skyscrapers," by John Allen Carpenter, composer of such novelties as the "Krazy Kat" ballet and the "Perambulator Suite;" "Le Ressignal," by Ivor Stravinsky, Russia's great modern composer; "La Vida Breve," by Manuel de Fella, the first opera to be sung in Spanish by the Metropolitan in nearly 10 years; "La Cena Del Beffe," by Umberto Giodano, composer of "Fedora" and "Andrea Chenier;" "La Vestele," by Gasparo Spontini, in Italian.

Revivals will be seen of "L'Heure Espagnole," by Manuel Ravel; "Don Quixote" by Jules Massenet;" "The Jewels of the Madonna," by Ernano Wolf-Ferrari; "Gianni Schicchi," by Giacomo Baccini; "The Barber of Bagdad," by Peter Cornelius, and "The Bartered Bride," by Friedrich Smetana.

Building Activity in U.S. Now at Record Levels OTHER MONTHS UP

Building operations constitute one of the brightest features in the current business situation. The volume of construction contracts awarded during April, according to figures of the f. W. Dodge corporation, was the largest monthly total ever recorded. These contracts amounted to $546,970,700, an increase of 14 percent over March and of 13 per cent over April, 1924, totals. During the first four months of this year, total construction started has been to the value of $1,623,540,000 as compared with $1,515,043,000 during the corresponding period of last year, a gain of a little over 7 per cent. This is for 36 eastern states. To illustrate the trend in type of construction, the Dodge corporation points out that of the 1025 $108,000,000 increase over 1924 to date, $52,000,000 represents gains in public works and utilities projects.

New York, May 19.-Today's session on the New York Stock Exchange was the most active in a fortnight with nearly a million shares changing hands between 10 and 1 o'clock. With the exception of shipping shares which were weak in anticipation of an unfavorable annual report by International Mercantile Marine, stocks in all classes were in good demand under continued leadership of rails and motors. An advance of 10c a barrel heavy Smackover crude oil brought about higher prices for the oil shares. This grade of oil is the only one responsible for the recent heavy ncrease in the daily average production of crude oil and today's increase n price started by Standard Oil of Louisiana was understood to mean that the peak of production in the Smackover field had been reached. New York, May 19 .- (By the As ociated Press.)-Several unsettling factors, including the appearance of profit-taking sales in the railroad list and a sharp break in Polish 8 per eent bonds, interrupted the upward movement of bond prices today although the market's undertone continued firm. Diversion of speculative ish loan was responsible for the break in that government's 8 per cent bonds. The decline which set in late yesterday afternoon was extended to-day, carrying the price down from the pegged level of around 95, which had been maintained for several months, to a low of 87. Subsequently, the bonds recovered to 89, showing a net loss of a point. More than $1,300.000 worth of the obligations were thrown or the market after the withdrawal or the market after the withdrawal of syndicate support. French railroad issues failed to maintain fully their recent gains, but the rest of the foreign list held steady. Industrial Bank of Japan 6s touched par for the first time this year.

An outstanding demonstration of individual strength was given by the Standard Gas 61-2s, which mounted 73-8 points to a record high price at 133. A rise in the company's stock he wide gain.

Mixed price movements marked trading in the railroad group. St. Paul liens resumed their upward novement, scoring gains of a point or so but International Great Northor so but international Great North-ern adjustment (8 lost yesterday's ad-vance of more than two points and realizing sales caused recessions in a number of other issues. United States bonds worked irregularly higher.

PUBLIC UTILITIES FEATURE OF CURB

New York, May 19.—(By the Associated Press.)—Public utility stocks led another spirited advance in today's curb market. So great has been the congestion of the transfer. day's curb market. So great has been the congestion of the two posts where these issues were traded in that exchange officials were forced to assign three additional locations in order to handle the large volume of business. Electric Bond and Share was the feature, jumping 7 points to 80 1-2 and then easing slightly on profit taking. Carolina Power and Light, Lehigh Power Securities, Middlewest Utilities, United Light and Power and a few others advanced 2 to 8 points.

Olis displayed a firmer tone on the announcement of an increase in heavy smackover crude prices.

high record. Application to list 140.
000 shares of the outstanding capital stock of the Reiter-Foster Oil Corporation was approved and trading will start tomorrow.

Motors led the upward movement in the industrial group. Chrysler gaining a record high at 91, where it was up about 2 points, and Cleveland Motors closing a point higher at 26, Good buying also was noted in Centrifugal Pine, Coty, Gillette SafeRazor and Kelvinator.

In addition we have very high temperatures in some parts of Texas where only slight rains occurred. Unless the weather over the best becomes ideal we look for a further improvement in values. POST & FLAGG.

New York, May 19.—Any decided change from present advices as to crop and trade seems more likely to be in favor of longs than of shorts, which with a serious congestion on the short side for speculative and with actual cotton so scarce and so high, would mean a very tight situation, if only temporarily. The market, however, has had a rally of a hundred points and more, which is perhaps enough for the present, though prices still look well below what is actually warranted by legitimate facts, and will in the opinion of many good judges look cheap by comparison with the average price at which the crop will pass into consumption unless growing conditions prove more uniformly favorable than any one is entitled to expect.

New Orleans, May 10.—Any decided change favorable than any one is entitled.

C. P. ELLIS & CO.

New Orleans, May 19.—The recent improvement appears to have been due to an adjustment of the technical position rather than to any important change in fundamental conditions. In the recent steady decline a considerable speculative short interest had accumulated and it was necessary only to start a covering movement to cause a sharp reaction. Unless crop accounts should become less favorable or reports from the dry goods division of the trade should show improvement we doubt if the advance will hold, as outside support is lacking, the demand having thus far been mainly from shorts.

The man who pays for the paint will make no error buying TRIPOD, because it goes as far as any good paint possibly can, further than any cheap paint will, and lasts and looks fresh so amazingly long. From any standpoint, TRIPOD PAINTS pay to use.

Practically, it is the coal miners who ask you to have your coal bin filled this month, so they can keep at work. And they make doing so very profitable for you. Glance at these prices:

May Prices, Per Ton, Delivered

Montevallo$9.	00 Acton Lump $7.75
Acton Nut $7.1
Creech Nut$6.
Dixie Egg	$6.50

Since it is Randall's that vouch for it, you are sure that this coal is the finest quality of the best grades of domestic coal which comes into Atlanta.

The reduced figures are possible solely because the operators want orders to insure full-time production right now. They bid 'way down to accomplish this. We pass the advantage on to you.

And we add an inducement of our own. You may take until next September 1st to settle the bill for whatever coal you order from us this month.

RANDALL BROS., Inc.

With the opening of headquarters and enlisting well-known southern people as an advisory committee, a southern campaign in the interest of Hampton and Tuskegee institutes was announced here Tuesday. This movement is expected to play a part in the raising of $5,000,000 throughout the country for the endowment fund of the two institutions.

A statement by the committee says:

"There are honest differences of opinion among southern people on certain phases of the negro problem. But there is one phase on which we can all agree—the need of developing negro leaders who will return to their own communities and teach their neople the gospel of industry, of morality, of respect for law and order; who can offer practical aid to the farmer, the housewife and the laborer, and who can thus slowly but surely help to create a pride of race without which no people can hope to progress, or to live in harmony with their neighbors of another race. This is the Hampton-Tuskegee idea of education for the negro. All of us can applaud this idea. Some of us can help to insure its greater usefulness to the south and to the nation."
